Message from the Chairman

As we present the 2025–2026 edition of AmCham-Jordan's Membership Directory, we do so with a sense of pride in our community and a renewed commitment to our mission of advancing the Jordan–U.S. business and commercial ties.

Over the past 26 years, our partners and members have demonstrated remarkable adaptability, navigating global shifts and continuing to drive growth. Their ability to stay agile while upholding shared values of excellence and service to country shows the strength of the AmCham-Jordan community.

This Directory represents more than the breadth and diversity of our membership; it reflects the spirit of a business community that believes in the power of partnership. Together, we have built bridges amongst each other, across industries, and between Jordanian and American enterprises.

Looking to the years ahead, AmCham-Jordan remains committed to serving as a dynamic platform for our members, one that listens, adapts, and leads with vision. With flexibility and determination, we will continue to champion and support initiatives that promote sustainable growth, and deepen the bonds between Jordan and the United States.

I take great pride in the achievements of our members and the enduring partnerships that define our Chamber. On behalf of our Board of Directors and Executive Team, I extend my sincere gratitude for your continued trust, cooperation, and engagement.

I also invite you to actively connect, communicate, and make use of AmCham-Jordan's network, resources, and programs. Let us support your growth.

International Luggage Manufacturing Co. Ltd.

International Luggage Manufacturing Co. Ltd. began its journey in 1998 with the launch of a pilot luggage production project, coinciding with Jordan's designation as a Qualified Industrial Zone (QIZ) by the United States. Backed by a major shareholder with extensive experience in premium luggage manufacturing across China, Hong Kong, and the UAE, the company brought world-class standards to Jordan, producing for leading international brands such as Atlantic, Airway, Pierre Cardin, Delsey, and Samsonite.

Building on early success, the company expanded rapidly between 1999 and 2000. Responding to strong U.S. market demand for duty-free travel luggage, it acquired significant land in Al-Hassan QIZ and developed approximately 65,000 sqm of modern pre-cast concrete industrial facilities. In 2000, the Jordanian Company for Developing Industrial Projects Ltd. was established as a local holding company, strengthening national partnerships and supporting further growth. During this period, the group also launched garment factories that produced apparel for major U.S. brands including Gap, Levi's, Dockers, and Nine West. By 2001, the group was exporting nearly 100 containers of high-quality luggage and garments each month to the United States, employing around 4,000 workers—2,000 Jordanians and 2,000 skilled Chinese professionals.

By 2002, the company strategically shifted its focus, transitioning from luggage manufacturing to a broader garment manufacturing and export operation. In 2008, the business evolved further, concentrating on industrial facility management. It began leasing its high-quality buildings to other garment manufacturers while exploring opportunities to convert industrial spaces into commercial areas that support wholesale, retail, and re-export activities as part of an emerging international commodities marketplace.

Palmera Dates Agriculture and Trading LLC

Palmera was founded in 2019 and has since become a pioneer in transforming the Medjool dates agriculture and industry in Jordan a model we aim to expand to Saudi Arabia and Egypt in the near future. Our medium-term strategy focuses on broadening our global footprint beyond our current markets in Europe, the Middle East, and West Asia, while strengthening our retail presence worldwide.

Our approach is rooted in strategic planning, group sourcing, and close operational management in collaboration with our contract farmers. Through comprehensive agricultural programs, method statements, and peer reviews, we ensure the highest quality harvests supported by a fair and transparent pricing system for farmers.

Palmera has developed two innovative agricultural techniques that lower the moisture content of ripe dates while minimizing yellow crown defects in arid regions. In addition, we've built precise statistical models to forecast harvest yields and invested in state-of-the-art post-harvest machinery that sorts dates by size, external and internal quality, and moisture content — all of which enhance shelf life and product durability.

We proudly hold several international quality certifications, including BRC, ISO 22000, Halal, and Global GAP. All our shipments are certified by Bureau Veritas, and we guarantee that our products are Non-GMO, %100 natural, and free from pesticide residues (MRL-free).
