The major shareholding company had vast experience of high-quality luggage manufacturing in China, Hong Kong and UAE for global market including US especially dealing in brands like Atlantic, Airway, Pierre Cardin, Delsey & Samsonite. The manufacturing operation expanded rapidly in the year 1999-2000, the company made bold plans by acquiring major lands in Al-Hassan QIZ and constructed pre-cast concrete sandwich panel buildings of about 65,000 sqm due to high demand of duty-free travel luggage to USA. A holding company was established in the year 2000 with local partnerships in Jordan named as The Jordanian Company for Developing Industrial Projects Ltd. During the same time, garment factories were also established in Jordan under the group holding company for exporting apparel brands like Gap, Levi's, Dockers & Nine West etc. to United States. By the year 2001, the group factories were exporting about 100 containers of high-quality travel luggage and garments monthly to the United States, hiring 4000 workers out of which 2000 Jordanian workers and about 2000 Chinese workers.

Then comes 9/11, travel industry got hit very badly in US and due to this catastrophe, the company was not able to continue its luggage manufacturing operation. Then whole focus was to transform luggage manufacturing operation to overall garment manufacturing business and exports. It went well for quite few years but finally, 2008 global financial crises compelled the group to close down its garment manufacturing operation as well and diverted its focus to industrial facility management for leasing out buildings to other garment factories and kept looking for converting the industrial space to commercial area for wholesale-retail and re-export facilities as an international commodity marketplace.
